

Access

Gate opening hours are posted on our website (www.ecan.govt.nz/waimakpark) or you can contact the park rangers for more details. Licenced game bird hunters can obtain a special access key from Environment Canterbury's Kilmore Street Office. This permits limited vehicle access into areas where normal public motor vehicle use is restricted.

Waimakariri River Regional Park Game Bird Hunting Advisory Group

A game bird hunting advisory group has been established to advocate on behalf of recreational game bird hunters and to assist Environment Canterbury in the management and development of the park.

If you would like more information or would like to join this group, contact the Park Ranger Team on 03 353 9007.

Pheasant Release Project

With the recent increase to a 2 day pheasant season, Environment Canterbury and Fish & Game NZ (North Canterbury) began a pheasant release programme in the Waimakariri Regional Park in 2009.

To date, 300 birds have been released and with effective volunteer predator control, surviving bird numbers remain excellent.

If you wish to assist with this project, please contact the Park Ranger Team on 03 353 9007.

Waimakariri River Regional Park

Waimakariri River Regional Park - Hunting Areas & Access

Introduction

Hunters have been using the Waimakariri Riverbed and berm for over 150 years. There are documented accounts by early European hunters of plentiful waterfowl on the Waimakariri before 1850 and, as early as 1874, the Canterbury Rabbit Club (whose objective was "the preservation of rabbits or game of any kind on the islands known as McLeans on the Waimakariri") held weekly shooting days.

Today, people are attracted to the park for its semi-wilderness nature and distinctive character, to enjoy the outdoors, to engage with nature and to make use of the many recreation and leisure opportunities it provides.

However, as the number of visitors increases, we need to manage the park carefully to make sure that all users are catered for without conflict of interest or damage to the environment and essential land and river control infrastructure.

Environment Canterbury recognises game bird hunting as a legitimate form of recreation and along with Fish & Game NZ (North Canterbury Region) is working to ensure continued hunter access.

Target shooting with all types of firearm is prohibited within public access areas. However, a number of hunting and shooting clubs lease land within the Park at McLeans Island, offering a range of firearms experiences for their members and in some cases non-members.
